THE STORY NEVER WANDERS
from familiar home-escense, and is touched with gleams of humor and cut shadows of pathos. Among its best pictures we find the charlish.

"GRANDMOTHER LELAND."
whose moral excellence energy and heroism are placed in vivid contrast with the delicate, soft, nervous beings" of this generation, who "weep over the wapid pages of a novel, but are shocked into interesting helplessness, at the sight of real distress;" the "BRICK SCHOOL-HOUSE," illuminated with "pitch-pine knots," for the "SINGING-SCHOOL."
where the "strong, hearty voices of the young men and mailens rolled out the notes of "CORONATION AND RUSSIA,"

"CORONATION AND RUSSIA," chased each other through the labyrinthian passages of "EXHORTATION, SARDINIA AND DELIGHT;"

"EXHORIZATION,
the simple "JONAS CROCKEY" MAKING LOVE to sweet "Bessey," and evincing appreciation of her delicate rejection of his magnificent profier, by presenting her with a "silver piece," and remarking:
 "MONEY IS SCARCE AND HARD TO BE GOT,
 "MONEY IS SCARCE AND HARD TO BE GOT, er I would give you more;" the sad, speaking face of mute, "Alger; beautiful "Susy Loring," her "CRAZED, BUT GENTLE SPIRIT.

"CRAZED, BUT GENTLE, STALL, arranged a grouping round the walls of its tenement, searching the haunted ceils of memory, in the meekery of vain endeavor;" the skinny, freekled 'Mary Tibbs, who NEVER CURLED HER RED HAIR 'but once, and that was when she 'back-sild;" poor, be-

The N. P. Courier and Enquirer says of Cooper's Naval History, in 8vo., as continued to 1853, by his literary executors:

"As accurate and impartial an account of our gallant Navy as it would be possible to make, from the first ship of the New World down to our present National Marine."

From George Bancroft.

Cooper is at bome myon the deep. No man like him has commensorated the gallant deeds of the Navy. No man like him has described life on the ocean. In his Naval History he has left us the most masterly composition of which any nation can boast, on a similar asphect."

"Cooper's nautical knowledge, his devotion to the service, and his familiarity with all that pertains to the Navy, pre-emimently qualified him for the preparation of a complete History of the American Navy. "We have never read a historical work that bore higher evidence of fairness and imparinality. He has cared to tell the truth in all cases, whether calculated to fatter the national vanity or otherwise."

The continuation of the History is in our opinion, executed with great fidelity, clearness and ability. We know the writer to be a men of character, with the instincts and culture of a gentleman, and the education of a scholar."

Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

"In all things relative to the Navy, Mr. Cooper writes with enthewissen. The ocean is his element. In dwelling upon the achievements of our young Navy, the pore American Traveler.

"He has crawn nautical scenery and life with a vividiness and with a chievement of the series and combets of our ships of war. NAVY OF THE UNITED STATES,

A BIOGRAPHY OF THE HON. MILLARD FILLMORE. It is well known to many of the intimate friends of the present nomines of the American party for the Presidency, that at their suggestion, something over a year since, the Hon. Thomas M. Foote commenced a Biography. His long personal and political intimacy with Mr. Fillmore, added to the fact of his having occupied the chair editorial of The Commercial Advertiser during a great part of that time, rendered him peculiarly capable of doing justice to the subject. In pursuance of this wish, so expressed, Mr. Foote had made considerable progress in the collection of memorands and preparation of the work, when he concluded to embark upon his present tour to Europe. His matter thus prepared was left in our hands, and we have now the satisfaction of amouncing that Mr. I. Chamberiain, who has for the past two years acted as both associate and principal Editor of The Commercial Advertiser, has comented to finish up the work, in consequence of a wish so expressed by Dr. Foote, previous to his departure.

The Biography of the Hon. M. FILLMORE will shortly be saued in a duosection of upward of 200 papes, embellished with a Portrait; and for extensive circulation will be nearly got up in paper covers and offered at the lew price of #12 per 100 copies, or $160 per 1,000 cupies, cash.
